

BD Recognized by the Business Group on Health for Excellence in Employee Well-Being

FRANKLIN LAKES, N.J. (Apr. 25, 2025)— BD (Becton, Dickinson and Company) (NYSE: BDX), a leading global medical technology company, today announced that it has received the Business Group on Health Best Employers Award: Excellence in Health & Well-being.

“We’re committed to providing education, resources and programs to help our associates thrive personally and professionally,” said Kristi Payne, senior vice president of Global Total Rewards for BD. “As much as we strive to continuously improve our innovation and product portfolio for customers and patients, we’re also constantly evolving our benefits offerings to better meet the well-being needs of our more than 70,000 associates around the world.”

This award recognizes BD’s commitment to advancing employee well-being through comprehensive and innovative benefits and initiatives, and its efforts to meet associate needs in multiple countries through globally consistent benefits offerings. Applications were reviewed based on leadership, culture and well-being strategy; holistic well-being, including mental health, financial well-being, social connectedness, job satisfaction, flexibility and time away; engagement and the employee experience; health inclusion and social determinants; and metrics and evaluation.

Also this year, Cigna Healthcare named BD as a recipient of the 2024 gold level Healthy Workforce Designation for demonstrating a strong commitment to improving the health and vitality of its U.S. associates through a workplace well-being program. Additionally, the American Heart Association awarded BD Gold recognition in the 2024 Well-being Works Better™ Scorecard, representing a notable commitment to the health of its workforce and community.

These recognitions demonstrate progress toward BD’s 2030+ corporate sustainability goals and commitments, including programs to maintain a healthy and thriving workforce that cultivates the company’s culture of inclusion, safety and well-being.
